First Sunday of Lent - Year B

Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

We are entering into the first week of Lent. This is a necessary time to reflect on our spiritual journey. These 40 days of Lent help us, who are the followers of Christ the Lord, reexamine, recall, and renew the purpose of our life.

The Collect for Ash Wednesday in the Roman Missal states:

*Grant, O Lord, that we may begin with holy fasting that campaign of Christian service,
so that, as we take up battle against spiritual evils,
we may be armed with weapons of self-restraint.*

Indeed, Lent is a time of spiritual training. We learn to take up battle against spiritual evils, our own vices so that we may come to know ourselves and God's love for us better.

The first task in this spiritual training is to repent, to have a genuinely repentant heart, for no one is perfect, but God. Acknowledging our weaknesses, our unworthiness, we need for God to help us change.

During the season of Lent the Church asks us to fast, pray, and give alms. Let us recall the meaning of these practices.

By fasting, we take good care of ourselves, to live a more healthy way, and to experience how to be hungry and thirsty in order to be in solidarity with those less fortunate than us. By almsgiving, we rebuild our relationship with others. That is to share the resource that God has given to us, to include the poor and the needy into our life, and to change our wrong perceptions about the poor. And by praying, we reconnect ourselves to God more intimately every day for knowing that God wants us to have a better relationship with God.

May God bless us all in this Lenten season.

Fr. Phi Nguyen

CYCLES OF FAITH

First Sunday of Lent

St. Oscar Romero said, “Aspire not to have more, but to be more.” These powerful words provide the perfect framework for a conversion oriented Lenten experience. God is giving us this Lenten sign to stop being concerned about what you have and focus on who you are. This requires that we create a desert space and listen more attentively for God to reveal His presence. It is all so wonderfully simple on the one hand and so incredibly challenging on the other. The message is simple: love God, neighbor, and self. Those simple words make great sense, but we struggle translating them into reality. Our attachments, compulsions, obsessions, addictions, routines, and busyness all anchor us to the “idol of the self,” keeping us mired in our compulsive need for self-aggrandizement. It’s not about us!

God vowed, long ago, to nurture, sustain and protect the relationship He has with His people. He called us into being, nurtures us in being, and sustains us in being. Without the Loving Divine Presence, all life would cease. Once we slow down a bit and clear away some of the clutter, we can see how the journey of our life is unfolding. We can see what brings us in and out of tune with God’s love and how we can better imitate God’s loving fidelity in our relationship with Him. In short, we will see our myopic short sightedness and figure out how we can better share the Divine Fire within with others. Lent isn’t just about giving stuff up for forty days and indulging again at Easter. We need to push things much farther and wrestle with the question of how we can be more. “Being more” means becoming more fully alive and in touch with the holiness of life and the divinity that lives in and empowers all beings and things. It is realizing that the “quality” of our presence is crucial to being an effective witness and herald of God’s unconditional love.

The illusion we have bought into causes us to believe that the wrong things and systems matter. We tirelessly fight to keep things the way they are, to return to the former ways of doing things or restore some nostalgic fantasy memory of “life in the good old days.” Lent isn’t about maintaining what we have or returning to something that is gone. It’s about becoming something new. It’s about being more focused, centered, convicted, and grounded so that we can be a person who truly loves and treasures being made in the image of God. The secret to Gospel living is not found in accumulating anything for ourselves, even merit points for heaven. Gospel living means learning how to live with less so that others can live with more. The thought of permanently giving something up makes us feel uncomfortable. Truth often does.
